Welcome to AnthroExpo 2020: RETRO RENEGADES!

Dear friends,

If you're reading this, that means we've made it. We've triumphed against the forces of evil and come out on top against all odds. We've broken out of space jail, transcended decades into the past, and now we hide among the masses wearing masks and suits.

In all seriousness, this convention was made possible by not just you - but by the many directors, managers, coordinators, artists, screenprinters, writers, planners, spreadsheet technicians, obscure 80's tech junkies and otherwise graciously helping hands that have accompanied us along the way. If you see someone sporting a lively "STAFF" or "SECURITY" shirt this weekend, please obtain their consent to give them a high-five. They deserve that much and more.

We are all hoping you'll have a blast at our inaugural year, because it's been a blast making it happen.

Sincerely,

Brett Martin

AURORA BLOOM

Fursuit maker and artist Aurora Bloom has been an inspiration to many in the relatively brief time she's been acquainted with the furry fandom. Her positive attitude, iconic art style and headstrong dive into becoming a full-time creator are what make her a perfect Guest of Honor for our first year.
