Faery tail creatures

Welcome back!

Welcome back to Anthro Irish, Ireland's first dedicated furry convention, now in its second year! Anthro Irish is a place for like-minded members of the Irish furry community to gather and celebrate all things anthropomorphic.

Welcome to our 2024 event with the theme "Faery Tail Creature", based around Irish Faery folklore and traditions.

Dressing up in more traditional Irish clothing or dressing up to match the more mystical faery aesthetic. From the old kings of Ireland to the humble leprechaun. Taking inspiration from them and mixing it with furry culture.

If you would like to be kept up to date with all the latest Anthro Irish information, feel free to follow us online!

Guest of Honor!

LadyNightLight

Hey there guys, gals, and non-binary pals! I am LadyNightLight, a full-time freelance artist specialising in fursuits and illustrations.

I have been making fursuits as a hobby since 2017 and in 2023 I made it my fulltime job. This made me the first official fursuit business in Ireland!

As of today, I have made more than 25 fursuits, several of which are attending this convention. (Do you recognize any?)

I mostly create toony style fursuits and my fursuit eyes are one of my most well renowned features. I have also worked on a series of realistic fursuits, using the skills I picked up in my degree in 3D Design and Model

Making from IADT to create suits that have been purpose built for LARPING and movies. I love getting to try new techniques and push myself to new heights when it comes to my creations. No creature, beast or concept is too complex to scare me away! This means I am constantly experimenting with new innovations that I can incorporate into my works, keeping me at the forefront of Irish costume design.

Aside from fursuits, I also make illustrations, sculptures, character designs and cosplay works. My non art interests include Dungeons and Dragons and video games, which I frequently stream over on Twitch.

I am so excited to be hosting a panel as the guest of honor for Anthro Irish 2024. This year I'm going to cover my journey on how I became a full time fursuit maker in Ireland, the challenges I've faced, how I overcame them and provide advice for new makers looking to pursue this as a career. I'll also be answering questions from the audience and my discord and sharing some stories and observations from my 7 years in the fandom. This will not be my first time running a panel at Anthro Irish, as I had the pleasure of hosting my first ever convention panel here last year! In it I talked about fursuit making, covering topics such as budgeting, techniques and answering some frequently asked questions from my discord community, "LadyNightLights Lair".

This community is open to everyone, if you would like to join you can find the invite listed on my LinkTree. My LinkTree also hosts direct links to the plethora of social medias that you can find me on, so make sure to check it out!

Thank you!

A big thank you to all the team who helped make the event possible. Without them the event simply wouldn't happen.

Aspen, Berry, Bon, Chef Echo, DD/ Mike, Doc Sierus, Fidget, Ink, Jack, Jarlath, Pyro, Yasoki

And a massive thank you to those volunteers who also work behind the scenes to making sure this event happens.

Our Artist!

Our Conbook design, and many other aspects of the artwork for this year's event was done by Lunar. Aka "Katies Nice Things".

Lunar (she/they) is a queer artist from Dublin who enjoys creating all things cute, quirky and a little bit cheeky.

They have a background in illustration and when they're not drawing silly stuff, they're probably playing D&D or looking for werewolves.

Who we're working with!

We are a small family run business that specialises in personalised edible cake toppers and stand up card toppers.

We are based in East Cork.

Edible cake toppers are made from icing or wafer paper.

They are placed on top of your home made or plain shop bought cakes to add that personal touch. We also do personalised mugs and stickers as well as edible cocktail drink toppers that you place directly onto the drink which are personalised.

We can print most anything and we have a quick turnaround.

Our icing sheets are Gluten Free, Nut Free, Cosher and with no known allergens.

We use top quality edible ink on all our products
