Doubt, Discontent Grip Everfree Northwest as Mallady Reveals Herself

By: Front Page, Reporter for the Everfree Press

May 29, 2015

Even the bearers of the Elements of Harmony were affected in the events leading up to the unclocking of Mallady, Everfree Northwest staff said.

Everfree Northwest, Emerald City's annual celebration of artistic achievement and community, is supposed to be a lighthearted and joyful affair appealing to ponies of all ages and backgrounds. However, shortly after Opening Ceremonies began, the mood quickly turned gloomy as a thick fog enveloped the city and the celebration guests, including the famed bearers of the Elements of Harmony.

"Everything seemed so sad and pointless," said Pinkie Pie, bearer of the Element of Laughter. "I don't even think cupcakes could have helped."

Vague dark shapes within the fog coalesced into the form of a tall, dreary pony who later identified herself as Mallady. She also claimed responsibility for both the fog and sour moods of the celebration guests.

Mallady went on to say the crystal brought to Emerald City during Everfree Northwest's 2014 year has been gathering the negative emotions and discontent in the community over the months. This caused it to slowly crack open, and ushered in the encompassing haze Mallady used to reveal herself.

At the present time, the long-term implications of Mallady and her haze remain unknown.

Everfree Northwest staff are pressing on with the celebration in defiance of the malcontent brought on by Mallady. All events are proceeding as normal. Special guests have arrived and attendees are encouraged to bring their energy and bright moods with them to combat Mallady's influence.

Among the diverse schedule of panels, interviews, games and dances, Everfree Northwest staff have planned several events which will be attended by the bearers of the Elements of Harmony. These events are designed specifically to allow celebration participants to show that by banding together in friendship, we can defeat the malodorous influence of Mallady on Emerald City and Everfree Northwest.

Charity Auction

Hosted by: Dustykatt and PonyToast

Auctioneer: Simul

Once again, Everfree Northwest is proud to be holding our annual Charity Auction: a chance for attendees to bid on some excellent pony-related items in return for giving to a deserving cause.

All proceeds will be going to the Seattle Children's Hospital, helping to fund both treatments and scientific research into cures. Having raised over $75,000 in the past three years for them, we'd very much like to keep the trend going.

To help with that, we've got a whole cavalcade of desirable items!

There will be both a live auction and a silent auction, so make sure you stop by the San Juan room before the live auction to sign up! Because nothing says "friendship" like helping those who need it the most!

"The goal of Seattle Children's is to be the best, and we couldn't do it without community support. Your giving helps provide outstanding patient care, supports research into groundbreaking treatments and ensures no child who needs us is ever turned away."

SPECIAL GUESTS

John de Lancie

VOICE OF DISCORD

Mr. John de Lancie will be joining us at Everfree Northwest 2015! In addition to the living embodiment of Chaos, John is perhaps best known for his role as the omnipotent trickster, Q from Star Trek, having played the role on The Next Generation, Deep Space Nine, and Voyager. His accomplishments are hardly found in the Final Frontier, having lent his talents to the Assassin's Creed games, major roles in the Dr. Who spinoff Torchwood and the acclaimed Stargate: SG-1, as well as spearheading the Bronies Documentary from 2012, in which John is both host and Executive Producer.

Bonnie Zacherle

CREATOR OF THE MY LITTLE PONY TOY LINE

Before Lauren Faust and the DHX team, there was Bonnie Zacherle, the original creator of the My Little Pony toy line. Bonnie Zacherle joined Hasbro in 1980. While working as an Illustrator in Hasbro's Research and Design department, Ms. Zacherle called upon her fond childhood memories of horses and horse riding to create My Little Pony and My Pretty Pony (the precursor to the My Little Pony line). In addition to My Little Pony, Ms. Zacherle worked on the redesigned Mr. Potato Head while at Hasbro. Later, she opened a studio focusing on freelance work, design and consultation services with her friend and former Hasbro colleague, Liz Knight in a renovated barn in Massachusetts. Ms. Zacherle currently lives in Warrenton, Virginia and teaches art to children.

Ingrid Nilson

VOICE OF MAUD PIE

Ingrid was skeptical 10 years ago when a mystic told her that her life's work would be all about her voice. Since then, she has been heard as 'Raspberry Torte' in 4 seasons of Strawberry Shortcake, as 'Maud Pie' in My Little Pony, as punk rocker 'Sloan' in an upcoming Barbie movie and more. In a career that has spanned over a decade and includes on-camera work, she has had the pleasure of appearing with some of Hollywood's gems. A classically trained singer (Royal Conservatory of Music), actor (UBC Honors Degree in Theatre) and dancer, Ingrid was raised on The Sound of Music and old school musicals. She lives in Vancouver, BC where you can find her teaching yoga and meditation, biking around town, and promoting positive body image in schools with non-profit Project True.

Lee Tockar

VOICE OF STEVEN MAGNET AND SNIPS

Please put your hooves together for Lee Tockar, who makes his return to Everfree Northwest! To us pony people, Lee is certainly best known for his roles as the mischievous Snips and the sorrowful sea serpent, Steven Magnet. Did you also know he was Spot, the diamond dog? In addition to Friendship is Magic, Lee has lent his voice to several of DHX's other series, such as Littlest Pet Shop and George of the Jungle, the latter earning him the 2008 Electronic Animation Award for Best Male Voice Artist. So everypony, please give a warm welcome back to the one and only, the simply marvelous Lee Tockar!

SPECIAL GUESTS

Jayson Thiessen

DIRECTOR OF FRIENDSHIP IS MAGIC

Jayson Thiessen was raised in western Canada and ever since 1998, he has worked in the Vancouver animation industry starting as a classical animator, then transitioning to digital Flash animation and working his way up the ranks to become a Director. In 2009 he took on the role of Supervising Director for the latest incarnation of the Hasbro series, "My Little Pony: Friendship is Magic" and applied his complete love and attention towards the show, which went on to become a runaway cult sensation around the world.

"Big" Jim Miller

DIRECTOR OF FRIENDSHIP IS MAGIC

Big Jim Miller is a storyboard artist, cartoonist, director, and improviser living in Vancouver, BC, Canada. After starting as a storyboard artist on MLP, he has since moved on to storyboard supervising seasons 2 and 3 of that series, as well as the 'Equestria Girls' direct to DVD movie. In Season 4 of MLP, Jim was promoted to co-director.

Kelly Sheridan

VOICE OF STARLIGHT GLIMMER AND MELODY FROM MLP TALES

With more than 20 years of voice over experience, Kelly Sheridan has appeared in numerous animated series and features including Ukyou in Ranma ½, The Scarlet Witch in X-Men Evolution, Diana in Martin Mystery, Sango in Inuyasha, Theresa in Class of the Titans, and numerous roles in My Little Pony Tales and MLP G3. Most notably, she has worked for Mattel since 2001, playing the voice of Barbie in the majority of their feature length films. Recently she can be heard as Mystique Sonja in Hero 108, Hisako in Joss Whedon's Astonishing X-men, Sersi in Neil Gaiman's Eternals, and Starlight Glimmer in MLP: FiM.

M. A. Larson

WRITER OF FRIENDSHIP IS MAGIC

M.A. Larson is a film/television/book/bio writer from Los Angeles, California. He has written on a variety of series, such as /Foster's Home for Imaginary Friends, Littlest Pet Shop, Sym-Bionic Titan, /and /Gravity Falls./ His first novel, /Pennyroyal Academy/, was published in October 2014, with a sequel planned for winter 2015. The film rights have been purchased by Lionsgate Films, with Reese Witherspoon producing. Larson can happily confirm what any thinking person already knows: Rarity is best pony.

SPECIAL GUESTS

Tabitha St. Germain

VOICE OF RARITY AND PRINCESS LUNA

Tabitha St. Germain, started her acting career at the age of 0.9, when an improbable collision of cells resulted in a clotsome little singularity that squeaked. Radiation from the planet Ninc1, or 'ninny rays,' followed, giving us the Tabitha St. Germain of today, who is capable of being almost anything that doesn't involve math or common sense, for a union-approved fee. The T. St. G. singularity worked at the Keg Steakhouse in Halifax as an (appalling) hostess for about a month in the eighties and then took the next logical step and joined the theatre. She was the lead singer of the wildly forgettable band 'Mystery Diarrhea', who released many things, none of which was an album.

Asking personal questions will usually only bring forth a string of tatty fabrications from this monkey. "I'm not lying," she has said, "I'm ACTING." This is because, while she does have a rich inner life, her outer life is pretty much divided between mucking about in gardens and making noise.

She was hatched, not born, vaguely recalling siblings twittering about in a wasteland of cracked shells. It is possible that she ate them. She amuses herself by setting all the egg timers in Ikea to five minutes, and leaving.

Nicole Oliver

VOICE OF PRINCESS CELESTIA AND CHEERILEE

Nicole Oliver is returning to Everfree Northwest! You probably know her as the voice of Princess Celestia and Cheerilee, but she has long career in both animation and on-screen acting. Her voice-over work in animation has spanned hundreds of characters, including roles in Ranma ½, Inuyasha, and Martha Speaks, or you may have seen her on-screen in shows such as Seed and Pysch. In addition to her roles in My Little Pony: Friendship is Magic, you're likely to recognize Nicole Oliver as the voice of Zoe Trent from Littlest Pet Shop.

PRE-CON WRITING CONTEST WINNERS

We here at Everfree Northwest pride ourselves on being patrons of the pony arts, and one of those arts is the delicate prose of horse words. This year, we've once again run a competition for the best pony fanfiction we could solicit, and the fandom did not disappoint! Below are the winners of the contest, along with a few others that we thought deserved a special mention. Thank you to everypony who submitted entries!

1st Place: "Letters from the Capital" by Apple Bottoms

This story tackles the friendship that everypony hopes to see: the resolution between Twilight Sparkle and Trixie, as told in a series of letters. However, how can two ponies who are so different make peace? And will a misunderstood letter destroy the fragile cease-fire between these two powerful unicorns?

2nd Place: "Daring Do & The Rookie Editor" by Naughty_Ranko

Twilight Velvet, acclaimed author and proud mother of two, has been given a new task by her publisher. But her first assignment as editor for a fresh, young writer may prove to be more than she bargained for, as it turns out the submission isn't as fictional as she thought.

A chance encounter that will lead to the team-up of two dream authors, the creation of the most beloved adventure series in Equestrian literature and the beginning of a life-long friendship.

3rd Place: "Bastion" by Cloud Hop

Being Princess Celestia's personal guard is a gruelling, thankless job. However, when the Princess begins tutoring a small purple filly, Bastion finds himself on the receiving end of a much needed hug.

No, I haven't done anything wrong! I swear, what's with the lack of faith?

Anyway, I need you to sit down and listen carefully. I am not good enough at Friendship yet, so I need a specialist and I need one now!

Chapter 1

Dear Celestia,

Thank you so much for the box of Canterlot Tulip bulbs, they're just the thing I needed to brighten up the window box on my cart! I don't know if I will be able to wait until spring to see them sprout, but I suppose it will be good practice at being patient. Not a lot of news here, I just arrived in the small border town of Gryphonvale for the night. I will write you again when I reach the next town and have more time to rest. I hope your idea for the fireworks works out, they sound magnificent!

-T

To Ms. Lulamoon:

Thank you for your continued correspondence during the exploration of the Griffon-held realms. As she is now very involved with the organization of the upcoming Winter Solstice Festival, Princess Celestia has delegated some of her letter-writing duties to myself. I can assure you that I am an excellent letter-writer and note taker, and am more than up to the task of chronicling your explorations. The princess has fully informed me of your journeys up until this point, and if you should have any need for assistance, please do not hesitate to ask.

Yours most sincerely,

Princess Twilight Sparkle

As dictated to Spike the dragon, assistant

To Her Majesty, Princess Twilight Sparkle;

Thank you most kindly for your response. I will keep in contact with you as I move between towns.

Your humble servant,

Trixie Lulamoon

To Her Majesty, Princess Twilight Sparkle;

Tonight I have made camp just outside of Manticore's Claw, which is several miles past the last border town.

Your humble servant,

Trixie Lulamoon

To Ms. Lulamoon:

Thank you for your continued correspondence.

Yours most sincerely,

Princess Twilight Sparkle

As dictated to Spike the dragon, assistant

To Ms. Lulamoon:

I have not heard from you in several weeks now, is everything alright? I hope you have not come to harm. If I do not hear from you within the next week, I will send out a search party.

Yours most sincerely,

Princess Twilight Sparkle

To Her Majesty, Princess Twilight Sparkle;

Please do not concern yourself with my health, all is well. I am simply very busy traveling and do not have time to write.

I have just left the Gemshorn Forest, and am currently resting for the night. Tomorrow I will pass through the town of Flickwing, and will drop this letter off at the post office on my way through.

Your humble servant,

Trixie Lulamoon

To Ms. Lulamoon,

Thank you for the update, I am relieved to hear you are well. I must confess

"Letters from the Capital" by Apple Bottoms

FIRST PLACE WINNER IN OUR 2015 PRE-CON WRITING CONTEST

that I had to endure several days of great worry over your safety. I could never forgive myself if you were hurt on my watch! What would Celestia think?

I've been looking over your letters to Princess Celestia over the past year, and I should inform you that your letter quality and length have both dropped significantly. You often included many anecdotes about your travels, and vivid descriptions of the locales you traveled through; the pressed flowers from the Meadow of Sorrows are still in the book that Celestia made of your letters. Yet your recent letters to me are barely more than a few sentences long. Is there any way you could resume your old style of letter writing?

Yours most sincerely,

Princess Twilight Sparkle

As dictated to Spike the dragon, assistant

To Princess Twilight Sparkle;

I am so very sorry to hear that you are displeased with the quality of my letters. Perhaps if you wanted to improve the quality of the notes I am taking, you could come out to the barren wastelands surrounding the griffons' realm yourself. I would be glad to give you directions, Your Majesty.

Ever your humblest of servants,

Trixie Lulamoon

To Princess Twilight Sparkle:

Today I am making my way through the region of Hipperlup. It is very hilly. The grass is green and the sky is blue. Truly it is a spectacular sight to behold.

The humblest of servants,

Trixie Lulamoon

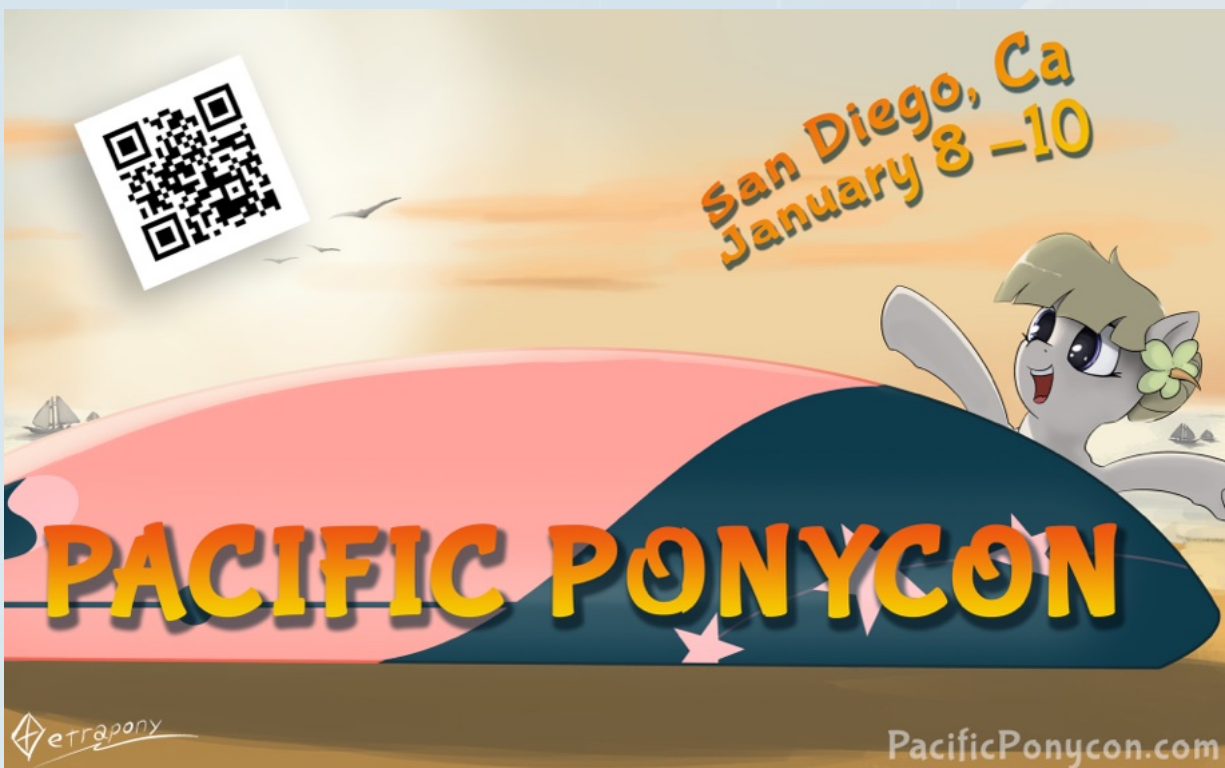

To Princess Twilight Sparkle:

Tonight I made camp on the edge of Hipperlup, on the way to Windsong. As it is currently night time, it is very dark. There are many points of light in the sky. I believe these to be stars.

The absolute humblest servant,

Trixie Lulamoon

CON BOOK COVER ART CONTEST WINNERS

This was a great year for our Con Book Cover Art Contest, with an amazing 33 entries in total! We at Everfree Northwest would like to extend a huge thank you to everyone who participated; your efforts have helped made this year's event one to remember.

1st Place:

Featured on our Con Book cover!
Print Available in our Con Store!
"Mocha Most of Your Day!" by Hollulu

Artist Statement

Mocha Sunrise's morning coffee gives just the kick she needs to clear the stormy skies above Seattle! Hail coffee! c:

2nd Place:

Print Available in our Con Store!
"Welcoming the World" by Aryana Welch

<http://okapifeathers.deviantart.com/>

Artist Statement

I wanted to emphasize that we have fans from all over the world participating in both the convention and the contest, which is why I decided to include the globe. Seattle is marked by a rainbow coloured star, a small reference to Seattle's opening and welcoming culture in regards to acceptance of all individuals. I used bright, happy colours because it is of course, very pony. I also wanted to be able to represent at least something from the show itself, so I included those references in the sky and the stars, letting both Luna and Celestia (and a little bit of Twilight) show through for anyone that wants to look for a bit more meaning.

And of course, the stars of the show are Mocha Sunrise and Front Page.

CON BOOK COVER ART CONTEST WINNERS

Hollulu received a $100 Amazon gift card, a complimentary badge to Everfree NW 2015, and of course, her art is featured on the cover of our official Con Book! All four of our top winners also have prints available in the con store, and each artist will receive 50% of profits made from the sale of their design! Show your support by buying a print today!

3rd Place (tie!):

Print Available in our Con Store!

"Forest of the Northwest" by SouthParkTaoist

<http://southparktaoist.deviantart.com/>

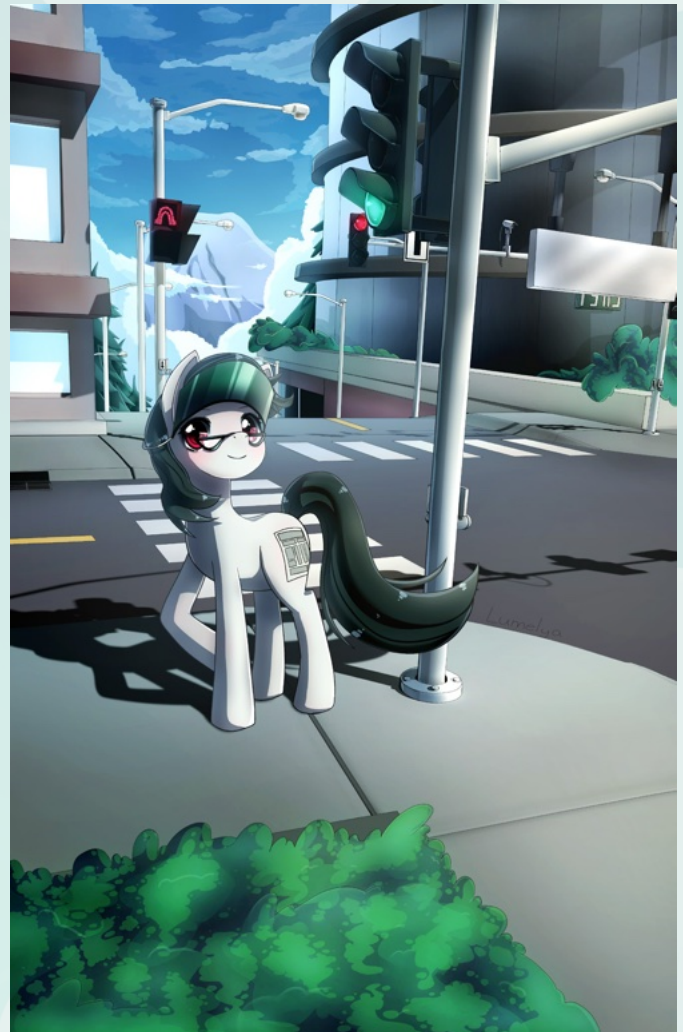

Artist Statement

The main portion of the work tries to merge the beautiful flora, mountainous landscape, and the stormy Northwestern weather with the chaotic nature of the Everfree Forest. The EFNW logo has a crack in it like the current version, with Front Page triumphantly standing above it. She holds a flag with the EFNW logo which subtly forms a crown behind her head. As Seattle's iconic Space Needle cannot be used I incorporated elements of similar space-themed architectural structures into the flag pole Front Page is holding and the frame holding the logo and text information. The frame also contains Mocha Sunrise and a cup of Seattle coffee.

3rd Place (tie!):

Print Available in our Con Store!

"Emerald Pony" by Lumelya

<http://lumelya.deviantart.com/>

Artist Statement

I wanted to convey the feeling of standing on a street corner in the Pacific Northwest on a beautiful sunny day. Mount Rainier is featured in the background. I took some creative license and changed the pedestrian signal to a horseshoe.

"Letters from the Capital" by Apple Bottoms

FIRST PLACE WINNER IN OUR 2015 PRE-CON WRITING CONTEST

Chapter 2

To Trixie:

Today started out like any other day for me. Well, let me clarify - any other day in the last month. I've been staying in Canterlot to help Celestia plan the upcoming festival, so I've been away from Ponyville. It's nice to be in the city where I grew up, but it feels so much smaller than it did when I was a filly.

Just after breakfast I was summoned to Celestia's quarters, which is very unusual. She's so busy with the festival sometimes I don't see her for days at a time! But today she said she had something very special to show me, and pulled out a thick sheaf of letters for me to read. They were copies, she said, of letters she sent you. I read them for a long, long time.

I apologize for my last letter. I'm not as skilled at writing as Celestia is, but I will do my best to do better, if you'll give me another chance. I see now that the purpose of these letters is not only to hear your impressions of the new realms you explore, but also to remind you of home. It must be difficult to continue writing letters after a long day on the road with only a few sentences to look forward to in reply.

I'm still figuring out this princess - thing. I feel like everyone expects me to be in control, and I'm really, really not! I always feel like I'm saying the wrong thing, or acting foolish, or not royal enough. I spend hours every night reading up on royal etiquette, but I'm still a nervous wreck at the banquets and parties and official ceremonies. And trust me, there are way too many banquets in Canterlot!!

I was so focused on writing the most royal letter to you that I wrote a really lousy letter. Sometimes I wish I could give up being Princess Twilight Sparkle, and just be regular Twilight again. I think it would be easier.

If it would be all right, may I ask for another chance at being your pen pal?

Apologetically,

Princess Twilight Sparkle

To Princess Twilight Sparkle,

Thank you for your last letter. I know how difficult it feels to be told that you're ... wrong.

Princess Celestia has given me a lot of advice in the past year, and I looked through my box of letters from her to find this quote. It reads:

Sometimes, my dear Trixie, we must learn to forgive ourselves, for there is no one in the world we will spend as much time with as ourself. In learning to forgive ourselves, we learn how to forgive others, and how to be as forgiving and loving towards them as we are towards ourselves.

I don't know if that'll help you, but it always helped me in tough times. I used to keep it pinned up above my bed.

I would like to try to be "pen pals" again. I've never had one before, but I'm sure I would be a truly great and magnificent pen pal!

Tonight I'm stopping in Bridgetown, so named because of the big bridge that crosses the river. It's a big market town, so tomorrow I'm going to do some shopping.

Sincerely,

Trixie Lulamoon

Dear Trixie,

I was so relieved to receive your letter! I won't deny that I've been waiting for it very anxiously, and Spike caught me peering into the mailbox more than once this past week. Whoops!

The preparations for the upcoming festival are almost finished. I went to the castle kitchen a few nights ago after dinner and saw the massive cake they are working on. It's beautiful! I really wish I could send a slice to you, but I'm pretty sure it would be crumbs by the time it got there.

There's a lot going on now, but not very much to do with me, personally. Oh! I got fitted for my festival gown last week - but that's something that Rarity would be more interested in, I think. (She's one of my friends back in Ponyville, she's a fashion designer!)

I hope you enjoyed your shopping day in Bridgetown! It sounds absolutely fascinating - I can't imagine what a griffin market must be like!

Please tell me everything you remember when you are finished!!

Finally, I have one small request of you. If you would like to call me just Twilight in your letters, that would be alright with me.

Sincerely,

Twilight

"Letters from the Capital" by Apple Bottoms

FIRST PLACE WINNER IN OUR 2015 PRE-CON WRITING CONTEST

Dear Twilight,

I had a lovely time in Bridgetown, thank you for asking. If you really want to hear about the market, I'd be happy to share everything that I remember with you.

First of all, it's full of griffins. Not another pony in sight! I'm used to standing out in public places, being that I am the Great and Powerful Trixie, but this time it wasn't my great and powerful self that I was being noticed for! Most of the griffins didn't pay me much mind, but the little ones kept pointing at me and hiding behind their mothers. It felt like the old days again.

They have a great deal of armor and weaponry for sale, focused on fine metalwork and finery. Griffins are known for their delicately wrought metal crafts, ranging from armor to jewelry.

I found several things I liked, and I purchased several trinkets for Princess Celestia's collections of griffin art - those will be arriving shortly after this letter.

I was wondering I wanted to I also have a favor to ask of you, Twilight. I've included a small package and a sealed letter inside the box I sent to Celestia - would you be willing to deliver that for me? The address is on the box. I would have sent it myself, but I didn't want to risk something so small being lost. If you could just put it in a mailbox in Canterlot, that would be all I need.

Sincerely,

Trixie Lulamoon

Dear Trixie,

I would be glad to deliver your package! The address on the box isn't far from my parents' home, so I'll just drop it off on my way to see them this afternoon!

I'll write more after I see them - Mom always has the best gossip about what's happening in Canterlot!

Sincerely,

Twilight

Dear Trixie,

I didn't want to wait for your reply to write back to you - I'm pretty sure your letter would have told me not to deliver the package myself.

I found the address and had planned on just leaving it in her mailbox, but an older mare came trotting out of the house before I could close the lid. She asked me if it was a package from you, and when I told her it was, she started crying. She turned to go back inside, and I couldn't disobey when she waved at me to follow her.

Her house is very pretty, as I'm sure you know; it's pretty much covered in pictures of you. She led me over to a small table, which I realized was covered in trinkets, mementos, and small treasures from the griffin realm. She was still sniffing when she opened your package - the star-gem necklace was a good choice, she liked it a lot - but she started crying in earnest when she read your letter.

She didn't tell me what was in it, but she asked me to ask you to come home soon. She said she misses you, and that you don't have to feel bad anymore, and that all she wants is to see you again. I think she really meant it, Trixie - she really seems to miss you, a lot.

I didn't want to leave her when she was obviously so upset, so I made her some tea, and we shared some cookies, and talked about my letters to you. She's very proud of you, even if you aren't the greatest and powerful-est - she told me so. She told me that she feels sorry that she pushed you too hard, and that she thought it was her fault that you left. I told her that we all make mistakes, and I'm sure that if she told you she was sorry, you would try to forgive her. I told her that you're keeping yourself safe, and that she shouldn't worry too much. I told her that I'm sure you miss her, too, because you kept sending her such lovely presents.

I know it's not really my place to say, but - she really does miss you. She gave me a letter to send you, which I'm including. You don't have to read it, but - if you could give her a chance, maybe it would make you feel better.

I know sometimes our parents make mistakes, but it's obvious that she really, really loves you, and misses you. I think she's really sorry for what she did wrong. She seemed like a nice pony to me, anyway.

I'm sorry if I intruded too much into your life. I know that we don't know each other very well, but if one of my friends was in this situation, I'd give them the same advice I'm giving you.

Take care,

Tw

FIRST PLACE WINNER IN THE 2015 eFNW WRITING CONTEST

Dear Twilight,
You're right - if I hadn't received these two letters at the same time, I would have told you not to deliver it.
But...
I am very glad that you were there to comfort my mother. Thank you.
I will have to take some time to think about this.
~Trixie

Chapter 3

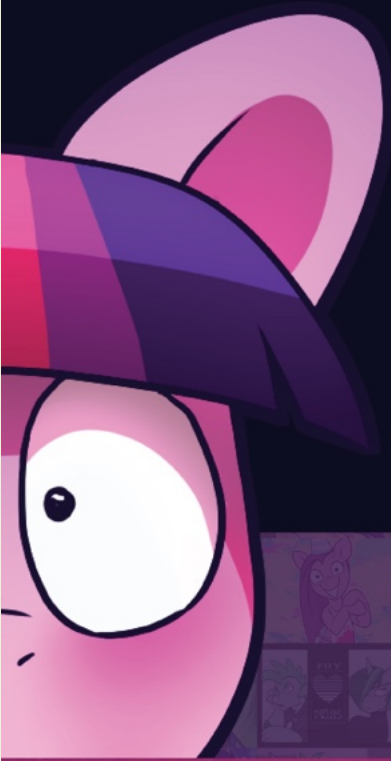

Dear Twilight,
I've been thinking about your letter, and my mother's, for the past week. It's been a long week of walking on flat, empty road, so I had little distraction from my thoughts.
It means a lot to me that you were there to be with my mother when she read my letter. I never intended to write her anything that would upset her, but ... I suppose it upset her anyway.
I won't bore you with a long story about where I come from or why I am here, but suffice it to say that I have not been home in a very, very long time. For many years, I thought that was how it was supposed to be, if I wanted to protect my family from the shame of my failure. But after reading these two letters, I've been forced to reconsider. Perhaps ... I'm not destined to be the Great and Lonely Trixie, after all.
Thank you, Twilight. For everything. I'm not used to having someone who would treat me like they would treat one of their friends.
Best,
Trixie

Dear Trixie,
This week was the week of the Winter Solstice Festival, which I attended with my Mom and Dad. It was a beautiful event, with streamers and flowers everywhere, and massive ice-castles sculpted by the Ice Artisans Guild. Did you know there was a guild for ice-carvers? Neither did I!
There were pies and cakes and food of all flavors - even pickled summergrass, if you can believe it! It tasted almost as good as it does when you pick it fresh. I wish I could send you a picture, but I did tuck in one of the embroidered napkins from the head table, and a piece of a streamer. I considered it a smash success on a personal level, as well - I didn't spill a single thing, and everyone around me was impressed with my etiquette! Spike, on the other hoof, managed to tip over a punchbowl onto his head. Poor Spike!
I invited your mother to join me and my parents for the festival, and we all got to sit together at a table near Princess Celestia. She wore the star necklace you sent her, and when Celestia came by, she told her all about your journeys in the griffin lands, and what a tribute you were to the kingdom's library and knowledge of griffin culture. Your mom was super proud of you!!
I think your mom had a really good time, it was really nice to see her smiling again after the first time I met her.
You said that you liked it when I treated you like one of my friends. I would like to hope that someday, if it's alright with you, we will be friends.
Best wishes,
Twi

Dear Twi,
I would like to be friends too!! The great and
That is ... I would like to be friends right now.
Best,
Trixie
P.S., Please?

Dear Trixie,
I would like that a lot!!!
Your Friend, Twi

ROOKIE WRITERS: GETTING STARTED IN STORYTELLING

SAT 10:00 am – 11:00 am, Glacier

Join show writer M.A. Larson and some of the leading voices in the fanfiction community as we discuss getting past those early bumps in the road, and provide tips (both technical and general) that can help new writers avoid some of the standard pitfalls to get the most out of this amazingly rewarding pastime and profession. SHARED SAGAS: CREATING WORLDS TOGETHER

FRI 6:45 pm – 7:45 pm, Elliot B

Most people think of writing as a solitary experience, the writer hunched over the keys in solitude, alone in a dark room... but that's not always the case. The internet and modern fandoms have brought about a revolution in shared storytelling, and collaboration in fiction has skyrocketed. Come join us as we discuss these new cooperative writing methods from traditional co-authorship to the modern fanfic standbys of pre-reader and editor. We'll also highlight tools and tricks to help enhance the experience from all sides. (Xepher, Dusk Watch, LoyalLiar, Ruirik, Cloud Hop, GaryOak)
