

Broadway Tails

July 6th - 9th 2023 Edmonton, Alberta, Canada

Hello & Welcome to Fur-Eh! 2023: Broadway Tails!

I attended my first ever Furry convention, which happened to be my first ever Fur-Eh!, back in 2013. Little did I know that over the next few years, not only would I get roped into being a part of the Staff of this convention, but that one day I would be the Convention Chairperson! I know that I have big (horse)shoes to fill, what with following Thallanor in this position, but with the help of our entire Staff, I'm up for the challenge.

Speaking of which, our Staff and our Volunteers are really the true heroes of our event. Their dedication, creativity, hard work, and true enthusiasm for putting on the best show we can for you is what makes Fur-Eh! possible each and every year. Without the hundreds of hours that our team pours into making magic happen, this convention would not be what it is today. So, if you have a moment, take the time to thank a Fur-Eh! Staff member or volunteer so that they know they are truly appreciated.

This is the tenth edition of Fur-Eh! and "Broadway Tails" couldn't be a more appropriate theme to help us showcase the talent that is abundant in the Furry community. Singers, dancers, artists, photographers, writers, DJs, fursuiters, crafters and makers... There are so many amazing individuals that continually amaze me with their abilities.

Even if you don't count yourself among the creators in our fandom, your ability and willingness to support those that are is another example of what makes Furry unique.

In the finale of the Fur-Eh! Musical, there's a line in the song that goes "What makes us special makes us strong!" That is most certainly true of all of our Guests, and we're honoured that you are spending your extended weekend with us.

Now, break a leg and remember to "Let your fur flag fly!"

GEARS

The Greater Edmonton Animal Rescue Society (GEARS) was formed in 2013 to help injured, abandoned, unwanted, and homeless animals.

GEARS strives to change all that is within our power and our power is great. Our volunteers, foster homes, fundraising, and community partners work as one. The animals we can give a second chance to change us. They bring together new families, volunteers, and donors – spreading joy and the courage to realize our vision and mission. If you're looking for a new family member, GEARS might have one for you! Our application process is easy but thorough. We care about where our animals are going and want to give them the best chance of a successful match. We ensure all animals receive vetting including vaccinations, spays/neuter, microchip, and any other medical care they need before being cleared for adoption. GEARS is a member of the Alberta Force Free Alliance and any animal with behaviour issues will receive behaviour support before and after adoption. We also provide our adopters with a post-adoption support group so you can ask questions or share your happily ever after photos.

GEARS is a foster home based rescue. This means our animals are in loving homes, learning everything they can to prepare for their forever home. We are always looking for both temporary and long-term foster homes. The more foster homes we have, the more animals we can help.

GEARS provides everything you need to provide proper care for your foster animal. We provide supplies such as a kennel, leash, toys, food, treats and more as well as covering veterinary expenses.

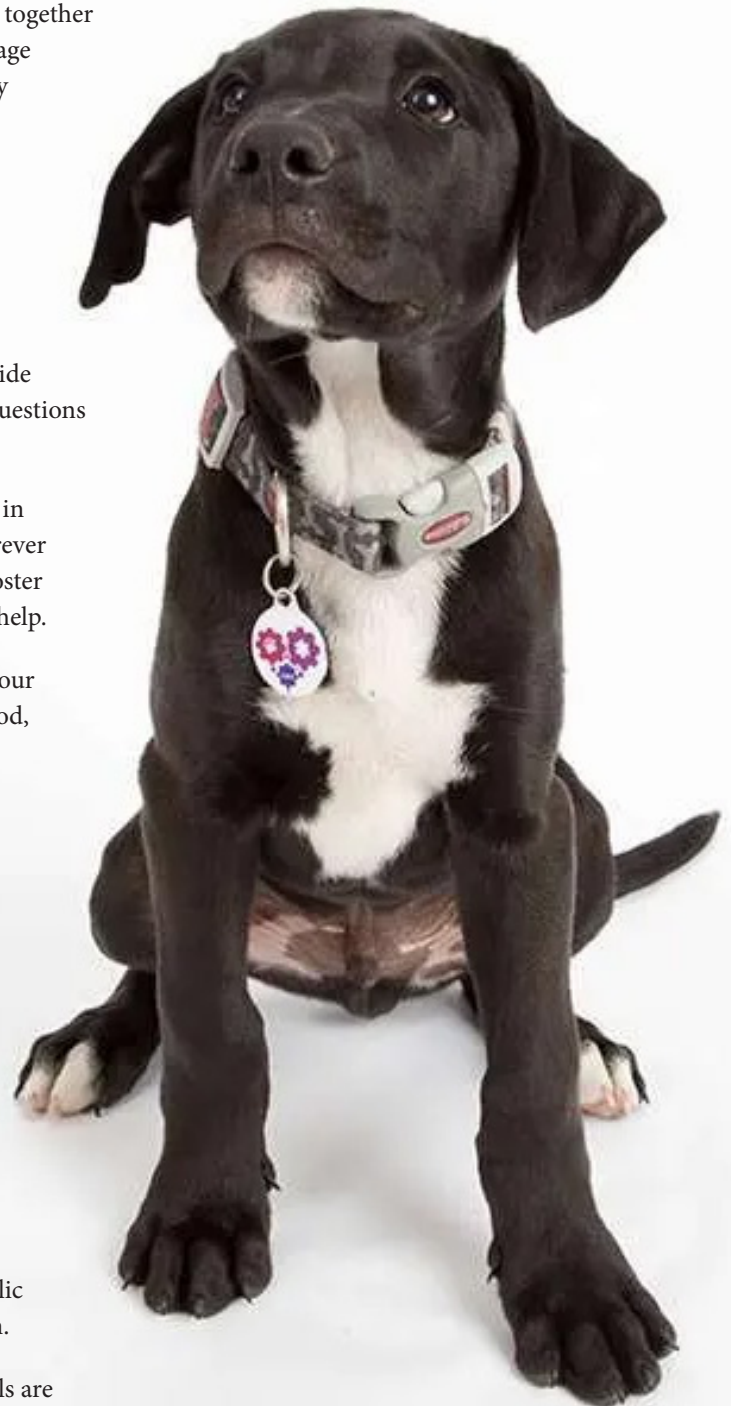

We need loving homes to keep our rescues happy and healthy. Along with regular exercise and feeding, we expect our foster homes to provide socialization and basic training to ensure our fosters are ready for adoption.

GEARS is non-profit, charitable organization (822791430RR0001) that is run by a passionate community of volunteers and foster homes relying on monetary donations, and donations of goods and services.

We are always looking for dedicated individuals to join our team. Areas include event planning, fundraising, transportation, medical, and more.

Our mission is to increase responsible pet ownership through public education, ultimately diminishing the need for rescue intervention.

Our vision is simple, we are gearing towards a future where animals are treated with compassion and respect.

Our Charity Partner: GEARS

There are numerous ways to donate to our charity throughout the event.

- 1. Donate directly to GEARS at their table in the Marketplace.
- 2. Bid on the Silent Auction items from Temperance and Apoxon with all proceeds going to GEARS.
- 3. Bid on heinous toppings that Thallanor will have to put on top of hotdogs and eat in “Thall Eats... Hotdogs.”
- 4. Bid on donated artwork, goods and convention-used signage during the Live Charity Auction on Sunday with all proceeds going to GEARS.
- 5. Donate at select marquee events during the weekend when our Staff or Volunteers come around with a collection bucket. Every nickel counts!

Don't worry if you don't have cash!
We will accept credit and debit via Square at most charity-related events.

Guest Of Honour: Apoxon

What got you into the fandom and how long have you been involved in it?

I stumbled across the furry fandom when I was in my late teens, shortly after my parents accepted that the Internet wasn't going away and that maybe we should get a computer.

I was playing around on Neopets, which led me to Deviantart, where I realized that the super cool "animal people" art I enjoyed was actually an entire genre. This was back in 2004.

It took me another five years to discover that we had a local furry community in Vancouver, and it took another year, a trip to Anthrocon, and making my own fursuit for me to work up the courage to attend any local events.

How did you get started making hoodies and kigurumi?

In 2010 I attended a Halloween Fursuit Walk and saw that a few of the fursuit handlers there were wearing animal hoodies. I thought they looked really neat and wanted to make my own. The handlers were kind enough to point me in the direction of an online tutorial, and it spiralled out of control from there.

After I had made myself a hoodie, a few friends asked me if I could make them hoodies, too. A few years later, I tried my hand at making a kigurumi, and once I had a grasp of how to sew those, I started taking commissions for them as well.

I had difficulty finding a summer job while I was in university, and in 2012 decided to try opening for hoodie and kigu commissions instead. It worked out well, and I began taking commissions every summer after that.

Fast-forward to 2020. My day job shut down for several months during the start of the pandemic, and I was thrust, ready or not, into sewing full-time. It was a silver lining to the hurricane; my business has grown and I've been freelancing full-time ever since.

How do you come up with all of those puns for your plush props?

Occasionally, folks will suggest new puns, and as long as they're not too obvious (sorry folks, we're not doing a Barq's/Barks), I'll try to workshop them.

Most often, though, it's a toss-up between brainstorming with my partner on long road trips and sitting bolt upright in bed the middle of the night, grabbing my phone, and jotting down a groggy half-formed idea to play around with later.

What is your favorite part of freelancing?

I cannot express how much I love to see people enjoying what I make. When clients send me pictures of themselves at events or even just around the house, wearing their hoodies or kigus, or playing with their plush props, it absolutely makes my day. I'm so grateful to know that I have found a way to channel my creativity in a way that brings happiness to others.

What advice would you give to other artists, particularly those just starting out?

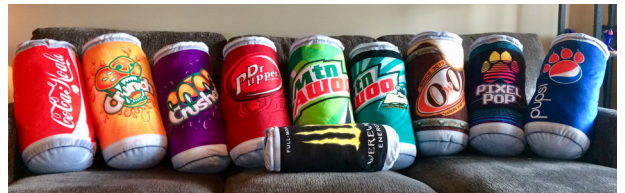

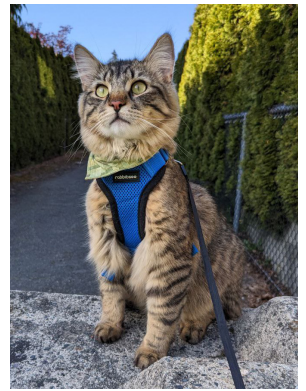

If you're creating just for fun? Enjoy it! Do what makes you happy! Don't feel like you have to monetize your hobbies; it is okay to create for the sake of creating.

If you're considering a career in art? Practice, but don't practice idly. Consider the aspects of your art that you want to improve upon. Start with small things and study how other artists tackle those aspects. Watch livestreams, look up tutorials, ask for feedback and be open to it.

If you're considering freelancing? Know how much work you can reasonably take on in a given amount of time and pay yourself a living wage.

What are some other fun things we should know about you?

- I nearly failed 8th grade sewing class! Seriously. Don't give up, kids!
- I'm a certified English teacher
- I love cats and have two; I will absolutely talk your ear off if you ask about them! Seriously, hang on, let me just pull up a picture here....

Special Guest: Temperance

Temperance is the proprietor and artist behind the costume company Komickrazi studios. She lives in Calgary with her husband and three cats.

Temperance has been making costumes for over 20 years. Her costume career began with cosplay - specifically comic books, cartoons and video game characters. In 2008 she discovered the furry fandom while working as a vendor at a comic-con and spotted a fursuiter wandering the halls. She immediately decided she wanted to try and make one of “those animal costumes,” and so began researching on the internet where she learned all about fursuits and the furry fandom. After completing her first fursuit, she instantly wanted to make another, and then another. It wasn't long after she learned her craft and became involved in the furry community that she began making fursuits for other people.

Temperance's many creative endeavors have seen her branch into a variety of fields from costume making, puppetry, dance and other performance arts. She has won various costume awards in a variety of costume competitions across North America and her work has been featured in film and other media.

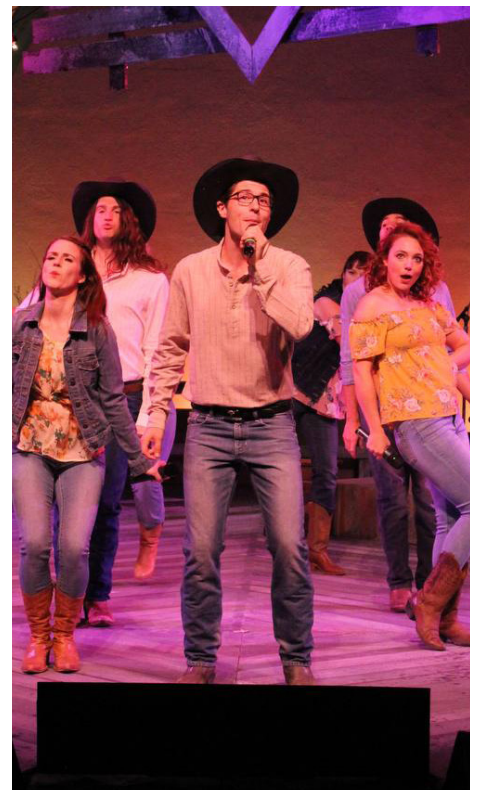

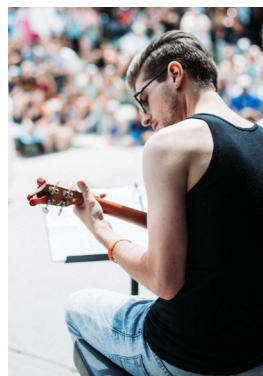

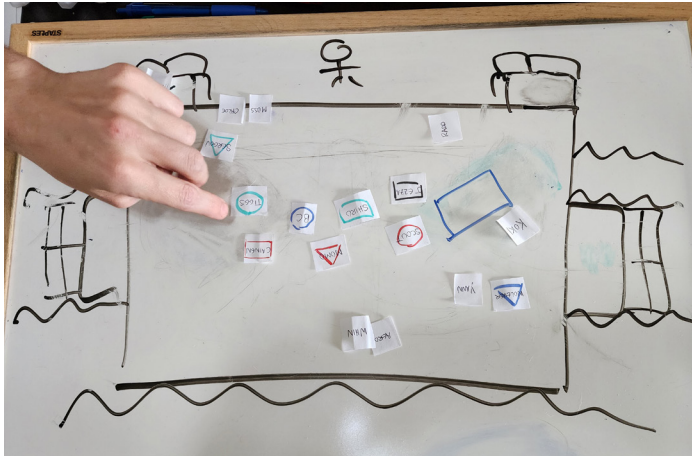

Special Guest: Tarrin Ridders

Tarrin is a freelance Musician and Actor based in Central Alberta, currently living in Red Deer with his lovely kitty, Zuko.

Tarrin has been performing in Canada for over 20 years! Starting in very humble roots at his family's country western experience. Tarrin has been honing his musical chops performing with his family band for many many years. Touring over Western Canada with the Great Canadian Barn Dance he and his family have performed all over the world and even been chartered on three cruise ship excursions, bringing that Alberta sound to the Gulf of Mexico! Taking Music at the University of Lethbridge, it was a natural transition to work for New West Theatre in Lethbridge for seven years after! Most recently he has helped co-write a kids' musical adaptation of the book The Sissy Duckling, playing Elmer the Sissy Duckling himself! Tarrin feels the stage is a second home, a place for fun, creativity and expression and that everyone deserves their chance in the limelight! Make sure to check out Tarrin's other events at the con!

The Story of “Fur-Eh!: The Musical”

Above: Stage Direction meeting in progress

How do you put together a full-length stage musical with a cast of over 20 performers and no opportunity to rehearse together in-person in less than eight months?

That was the daunting question facing Temperance and Tarrin Otter, Fur-Eh!’s Special Guests for 2023, when bcbreakaway approached them with the idea of this monumental task.

“I wasn’t sure it was something that we could truly do, but I knew that Temp and Tarrin were the people to ask if we were going to try,” recalls bcbreakaway, who helped write the lyrics for the songs and who stars in the show as one of the Leads. “We have one chance to get it right as we’re only putting this show on once, so it was important to me that whatever we ultimately presented didn’t seem slapped together. Fortunately, both my co-directors are perfectionists, so I found out early on that I wasn’t going to have to worry about that!”

The process started with Temperance writing a script that would tell the story about a new Furry who would be attending Fur-Eh! for the first time with the guidance of a more experienced con-goer.

“The furry community has so many different aspects, which is one of the things I love about it - there is literally something for everyone,” explained Temperance. “So, when writing the script, I wanted to find the best way to celebrate the many facets of furry.

I decided using a new furry character at their first con was the best way to explore many different parts of furry so they each had a moment to shine.”

Once the script was done, a dozen songs were chosen from popular musicals that would be adapted through a “furrification” of the existing lyrics. Tarrin Otter and bcbreakaway would pen most of the new lyrics while Temperance would come up with choreography for several songs where dancing is featured.

“Some of the tunes just came naturally, like “Anything Goes” for the artist song and “Welcome to the Rock” for the intro to the Con tune,” recalls Tarrin. “Others were surprising and needed some serious revamping such as “Revolting Children!” Getting the syllables to line up was a real challenge!”

CASTING CALL

With less than eight months to go until Fur-Eh! 2023, a casting call was announced where performers that would appear on stage and those who would lend their singing voices to others were asked to send in auditions showcasing their ability to sing and/or dance. The Directing trio received over 20 auditions with a wide range of talent.

Cast in the Lead for Fur-Eh!: The Musical was Shiro Takashi. “Being part of the Fur-Eh! musical has been such a fun adventure. Being cast as the lead was daunting at first, but with such a wonderful cast and crew it soon became the biggest event I was looking forward to at this year’s con.”

THE RECORDING PROCESS

With the cast set and the lyrics written for the chosen songs, the cast got to work recording their vocals for each song. Because the cast lived in different places (from as far away as Pennsylvania for example), each vocalist was sent a demo track sung by Tarrin or bcbreakaway. The vocalists were then tasked with recording their singing along to the demo track and sending those recordings back to bcbreakaway who would assemble all the music.

“It’s a painstaking process that takes many, many hours. We’re asking people to sing along to our voices which sounds much easier than it really is,” explains bcbreakaway. “Ultimately, I often had to take their recordings and chop them down to individual syllables and then line them up to a master vocal track. This process meant I think I’ve listened to each of the twelve songs up to two hundred times each over the past couple of months!”

A Broadway musical just isn’t a Broadway musical without at least a couple of show-stopping dance numbers.

SO, YOU THINK YOU CAN DANCE?

Early on, the Co-Directors knew that a Broadway musical just isn’t a Broadway musical without at least a couple of show-stopping dance numbers. But, with most of the voice cast not necessarily dancers, it was a challenge for Temperance (who served as the choreographer for the show) to find a way to still wow the audience while not making fursuit-clad performers trip over each other – or themselves – on stage.

“Choreography can be tricky when you have dancers with varying skill sets; you don’t want to make it too simple and be boring, but you don’t want to make it too challenging for those with less experience,” said Temperance of her approach to the choreography for the show.

OPENING (AND CLOSING) NIGHT

On the Saturday night of Fur-Eh! 2023, hundreds of Guests will experience the show for the first and only time.

“Honestly, I wanted to quit so many times,” Temperance confessed. “The burnout was real! Writing a script and singing some songs and creating a few dances is a small part of what goes on behind the scenes. But I love performing and I would regret not ‘taking my shot.’ Even if we play to an audience of one person, I know it will be worth it.”

It’s not lost on Tarrin how much work has gone into something that will only be staged once. “You always pour a bunch of yourself into every project you do and although it will only be performed one time, you want to make sure that one time blows everybody out of the water! I would say there’s almost more work that goes into a one-off show than one you get to repeat!” Tarrin said.

In the end, hundreds and hundreds of hours will have gone into the planning, production and staging of Fur-Eh!: The Musical. Will it be worth it?

bcbreakaway has no doubt that it will be. “I know that our Guests who see this show will truly enjoy it. The music is great, the story is fun, the choreo is exciting... It’s everything I’d want to see in a Broadway musical. And, who knows? Maybe we’ll take this thing on tour someday!”

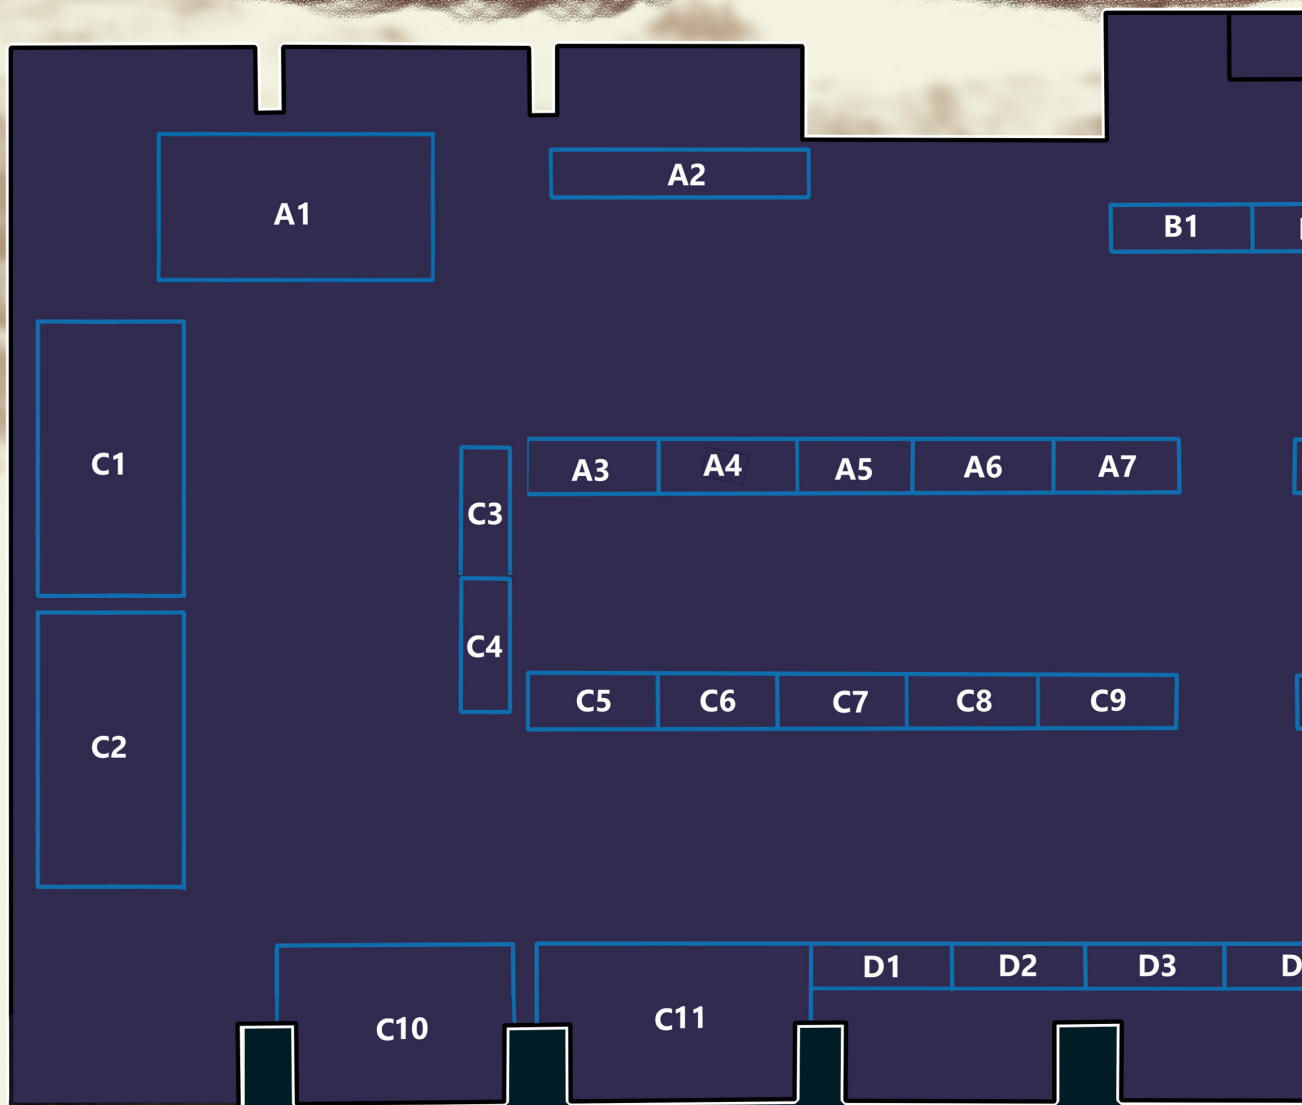

He might be on to something there. After all, all the world’s a stage.

Fur-Eh!: The Musical debuts at 7:30pm on Saturday July 8, 2023 in the Wildrose Theatre.

TIPS & TRICKS

Top 5 Tips to make your visit to Broadway Tails a showstopper!

5. The best view of the Fur-Eh! Parade is by the road in the front parking lot. Every fursuiter and all vehicles that are in the Parade will take the same route, so make your way over towards the Edmonton Inn's sign and you'll see roped off areas where spectators of the Parade will get the best view. (Note: In the case of inclement weather, the Parade may be cancelled and will not be rescheduled.)
4. Shop 'til you drop! This year, the Marketplace has expanded to include part of the Arbour Lounge. The Fur-Eh! Company Store has also moved to this location and will operate starting Thursday. (The rest of the vendors will operate Friday to Sunday.) Plus, don't forget about the Artists Alley which is located in the main lobby. Finally, there's the Art Show where you can bid on your favourite Artist's work selected specifically for the event. With all that, there's always something for everyone at Fur-Eh!.
3. "Pics or it didn't happen!" Let's make Fur-Eh! memorable for your favourite fursuiters and performers by taking lots of photos (with their permission, of course). Post them on your social media and tag the official @fureh Twitter, using the hashtag #FUREH2023!
2. With over 1,300 Attendees expected, our advice for attending our most popular events is to get there early! Those events include Opening & Closing Ceremonies, The Dance Competition, Floor Wars and Fur-Eh!: The Musical. (If you are a DIVA, UNDERSTUDY or SWING registration tier, you will receive early seating assignment while space is available at the aforementioned events.) As a courtesy to other Guests and Panelists, please arrive on time for all events to reduce disruption.
1. Do the con YOUR way! There's no "right" way to enjoy the Convention. Your visit to Fur-Eh! may include plenty of exciting entertainment, dining and shopping or it can just be a time to spend some time with friends. It's up to you how you want to spend your time with us, but no matter how you make the most of that time, make sure to get some rest, eat properly, stay hydrated and don't overdo it! You'll feel better and won't burn out before your visit is over!
