

FURLANDIA

May 10-12 Portland, OR

WELCOME TO FURLANDIA!

Where tails and ears meet doughnuts and college students.

On behalf of our staff and volunteers...

Welcome to our first year!

We're gonna have a wild and crazy weekend here. Look out for that fursuit parade and the occasional writer roaming the halls. Be nice to the fursuiters and don't grab their tails!

There will be plenty of cameras, so smile and say, "SQUIRREL!!"

~Atso and the rest of the Furlandia Staff

Welcome to Furlandia

A Few Things...

Lost & Found is in Ops, which is the Newport Room.

Headless Lounge is in Trillium Lake.

Video Lounge is in Pyramid Lake.

We have a Meet & Greet Friday night in the Willamette Ballroom. Come join us there!

GAMING

Gaming Room

Hours of Operation:

Saturday: 10am-10pm

Sunday: 10am-5pm

Located in the Willamette Ballroom next to the Furlandia registration desk, the Games Room and Lounge operates Saturday 10am-10pm and Sunday 10am-5pm. The room is divided into three sections, offering tabletop games in the front and video games in the back, separated by a lounge space in the middle.

A library of games is available for use by speaking with the Games Room attendant. To avoid confusion, please notify the attendant if you would like to bring your own games or equipment into the Games Room. Because most of the games and consoles provided are on loan from members of the Portland furry community, they must be used with care; abuse or theft will not be tolerated.

Several tournaments will be held during the convention; consult the programming schedule for details. Additionally, Sofawolf Press has generously donated copies of the Nordguard Card Game which will be available for demonstration.

Inflatables Meetup

Inflatables seem to be a new addition to the fandom. See some custom inflatables created by members of the fandom up-close, learn what to do (and what not to do) around inflatables to keep their owners from twitching, whether at a con, the pool or other setting. If you have your own publicly-displayable inflatable, please bring it and show it off!

Baphnedia

Intro to Watercolor

Watercolor is a media admired for its luminosity, loose shapes, and dream-like colors. It also has a reputation for being overly difficult. Come attend a panel that helps show you this isn't the case! Basic techniques, color use, and recommendations to help get you started with will be covered.

Variety Show

A favorite event at any con is the Variety Show, when members of the community share their talents, creativity, and silly furry tricks with one another. Musicians, prestidigitators, thespians, circus artists, and performers of every stripe are invited to delight and amaze their fellow fans.

In case it needs to be said: please no nudity, "side-show" acts that involve breaking skin, fire performance, functioning weapons or other dangerous props, or throwing/spraying of any substance into the audience. Variety Show performers must attend the run-through/technical rehearsal prior to the performance, so please budget time and plan your meals accordingly.

Vintage Fox Trot

Wear your best Portland vintage style to this brunch-time soiree. Learn social dance steps from the turn of the last century, then fill your dance card and trip the light furtastic to cabaret & vaudevillian sounds by DJ Sabby Tabby.

Walking with the Red Wolf

Following the escape from his father's tyranny, a timid werewolf named Seamus is forced to face his own limitations as he struggles to make a new life for himself and his baby sister, Rathnait. On the way they make new friends, carve new paths, and uncover a long-forgotten prophecy that had been hidden from Seamus since before he was born.

Will you walk with the red wolf?

Come on down and uncover the story of Walk of the Red Wolf, meet the characters, and listen to a sneak peek of the book, read by creator, The StarDog! Don't forget to stick around afterward for the raffle and get a chance to win a signed jumbo Walk of the Red Wolf poster!

The StarDog

Which wolf? Where wolf? Who wolf? Werewolf!

Werewolf movies, books, and comics are as close as many people ever get to the furry fandom. The organizer of HOWL CON, the world's only werewolf fan convention, discusses the furriness of werewolves, touching on world folklore, role-playing games, horror-as-slapstick, and the recent popularity of heroic werewolves in urban fantasy & paranormal romance. Tojo the Thief

Tojo is an artist and all around nerd who currently resides in the the pacific northwest where she is finishing up a degree in design. Originally from sunny California, she escaped and now enjoys living in the rainy slug filled environment of Washington state. She joined the fandom in 2006 and at that point began to convert people into dragons for the betterment of furry kind. Aside from the furry fandom her hobbies include fantasy art, reading, designing, harassing wild-life and gaming.

Soki Twopaw

Soki started off making costumes one year when he wanted to have something to wear for Halloween. His families favorite holiday. Dad always dressed as the Grim Reaper, mother was always bride of Frankenstein. He tried the old Charlie Brown getup with the sheet over his head but then Soki stumbled upon 'Goldenwolfens' tutorial on how to make masks. He wore it that Halloween then threw it away. The following year he wanted enter a costume contest at a rave called 'Freaknight'. He was interested in the were wolf phenomenon of the 1600's through school history classes at the time and had an interest in Jim Henson's work. So he went on the internet to find instructions to create a more complete 'were-wolf' costume. From there he proceeded to create one and take it to the contest but did not wear it due to how warm it was inside the event. After the event, the costume was thrown away and another year rolled by until the following Halloween he wanted yet another costume. Remembering what he created the years prior, he went about to make another one and won a few local contests along amassing a little pocket change in the process. Looking to learn more about costume creation, he went online and found the furry community and fursuits. He got his first commission by happenstance, from there the rest is history.
