

NORDICFUZZCON

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Welcome, brave fluffy warriors, to the epic battle of Ragnarök. We have gathered warriors from all over the world to help battle the evil serpent Jörmungandr. Here you will have your chance to earn your place among the legendary heroes of Valhalla. In the span of a week you can expect to share drinks with your fellow warriors, battle your way through the den for equipment, take in the Nordic atmosphere, and vanquish your foes not-actual-foes with a barrage of fluffy hugs.

This year, 2024, is special to us as it marks our 10th iteration of NordicFuzzCon. This has been an incredible journey for myself as the founder and chaircat, but also for the amazing STEW (STaff and crEW) and all of you that have returned year after year. What started in 2012 as a furmeet in Stockholm with some 40-odd fuzzballs from Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Poland, and the US. Evolved into a convention and has reached its 10th edition, now with over 3500 attendees from more than 50 countries. (Interested in how NFC has evolved over the years? You can look back on our past editions in our special museum and maybe look back at your first NFC.)

New for this year, to accommodate all of you, we have expanded our venue to include "Valhalla", a cool rustic space where you can find everything from events and activities, to bouncy castles, the Artist Alley and our amazing big LED wall. It's located next to our Comfort Hotel and is easily accessible by foot, or using our fursuit-friendly shuttle service.

For this year's charity, we've collaborated with Eurofurence to support an organisation that has been working hard in the current major European conflict, UAnimals. What started as an animal welfare group has turned into a major support group for animals in Ukraine with the current environment. They go into hot zones around Ukraine to rescue animals and provide shelter along with any necessary medical treatments.

It has been an awesome experience for the last several years welcoming all of you to NFC. I'm also grateful for the STEW members, past and current, for the hard work they have put in. Thank you for all of your support throughout the years and I look forward to the journey ahead.

So a big thank you for attending this very special NordicFuzzCon!

For now, I hope you will enjoy your time and explore all the fun things we have planned this year.

Fluffy hugs,

TRAX

Chaircat and Founder

CHARITY

This year standing together and supporting each other has been an important part of life in Europe. In the spirit of working together, NordicFuzzCon is taking over the torch from Eurofurence to help our animal friends in Ukraine: UAnimals.

UAnimals

This organisation of brave individuals are aiding animals within the hot zones of the Ukrainian war. Evacuating, providing food, medicines for shelters, and helping rebuild where shelters are affected by Russian aggression.

UAnimals have their roots in fighting for animal welfare and have previously organised the biggest animal rights rally in Eastern Europe. Annually, thousands of passionate Ukrainians come together in 30 different cities to march for animal rights and increase awareness.

This same passion and devotion can be seen during the ongoing war, the compassion shown for those who cannot fend for themselves. Animals from zoos, exotic animals kept in private homes, wild animals who had their environment ripped away, as well as domesticated animals and pets. There are many animals and they all need our help.

UAnimals is working together with Natalia Popova to build a Wild Animals Rescue Center, which provides a temporary rescue shelter and medical treatment for exotic animals that are often rescued from hot zones like Luhansk and Donetsk. Regular soldiers are incapable of rescuing any anxiety filled scared cats, let alone one of 180 kilograms, so they call in the brave souls of UAnimals to evacuate them.

UAnimals is working hard to call on states, international organisations, and institutions to stop the ecocide in Ukraine. Because not only animals are suffering, but all of nature is. The ongoing war is causing more and more damage to the already fragile ecosystem. It is one of UAnimals' goals to make sure that the impact will be reduced wherever possible, because the mass destruction of plant life, animals, the pollution of water and air will have consequences for all life.

This wonderful organisation provides a much-needed light in the darkness of war for many, not losing hope and actively planning for a better future. And this is why we from NordicFuzzCon are proud to have them as our charity.

MEDIC & SECURITY

Like every year, your friendly neighbourhood medics and security furs are here to make sure you and everyone else have the best con possible! Here are some friendly reminders on how YOU can make your experience better:

- Remember the 6-2-1 rule: Make sure to get at least 6 hours of sleep (or more), 2 meals, and 1 shower a day!
- If you see a fellow congoer who is not feeling well or just sitting by themselves, go up to them and say hi! Ask how they are doing and if they need help - you never know, you might make a new friend!
- And at any time, if you feel bad in any way or think you or someone else needs medical attention, be sure to contact the nearest medic!

Our medics are always happy to help, give out band-aids, water, isotonic drinks, condoms and HUGS to those in need! Together with the medic team, the security team will do our best so all of you can have an amazing con! Please do not ever hesitate to come to us if you have any concerns, big or small - we are here for you.

WELCOME TO VALHALLA

NFC is growing and we now have two venues! With more attendees than ever, we want to make sure everyone can join in the fun. Now we have even more space available to us, right next door to our Comfort hotel. Valhalla is located at Jörgen Kocksgatan 7A just a quick 10 minute walk away from Clarion, or you can hop on our frequent shuttle bus.

Check out the schedule for meet & greets and panels happening in Valhalla, test your mettle in Trials of Ragnarök, grab a drink from the bar, and walk down through memory lane in our 10th anniversary museum!

At NFC, we'll continue our research, asking various sociological and psychological questions about the fandom and your experiences in the fandom specifically. We plan to bring our booth (anyone who attended Eurofurence in 2019 will be familiar), where we meet and greet attendees, talk about what we do and how we do it, and answer any of their furry-related science questions. We also hand out surveys to gather even more data.

We'll also be hosting two panels on Thursday and Friday. We'll be sharing our research findings and learn what and identity scholar AND a furry researcher--thinks about at 3AM.

GRIMNER: HAILING FROM THE NORTH

Sweden's vikings of Grimner give a unique mixture of folk and metal, incorporating catchy melodies, folk instruments and heavy riffs into their own, yet aggressive metal. With their dynamic and captivating music, with lyrics sung in Swedish, and looking like they have recently arrived from a fantasy world, they have taken enthusiasts of both metal and folk music by storm. Grimner's lyrics revolve around Norse mythology, folklore, historical adventures of vikings and life in the same era. Grimner's music is as awesome as entertaining.

CARELESS TALK

by Nall

Ratatask the squirrel hurried down the world tree, Yggdrasil, as he had done since time began. The eagle who lived up top had been predictably upset with the latest vitriolic insults from Nidhogg, the dragon who lived down below, and so had responded in kind. Ratatask recited the missive under his breath, partly as the journey down to the roots of the great tree was long and boring, and mostly as the eagle had invented many new words to express displeasure, which the squirrel didn't want to forget on the way.

It wasn't grand, but this was the squirrel's purpose: carrying the mutual ill feeling up and down Yggdrasil. Both the creatures at either side of his journey were his friends, but the conversation always darkened whenever he mentioned one of them to the other. They didn't have to ask what terrible lies were being said about them, and the squirrel certainly didn't have to reply, but inevitably he did.

Ratatask's journey along Yggdrasil required him to go through Midgard, the realm of mortals. Here, the tree appeared as just a tree, and the squirrel seemed like any other squirrel. Mythology was scarce on Earth, and the quieter and more symbolic things could be, the better. Just an effortless trip down an innocent ash tree. Simple, right? Hardly. Ratatask was delayed in Midgard a lot. This time was no exception, as he passed by another squirrel going the other way. Suddenly, the other creature had scampered in front of him.

"What did you say?" it wondered.

"I didn't say anything," said Ratatask.

"You did. You were muttering under your breath."

"Just things on my mind."

"Oh. You sounded unhappy, is all. There's never enough time for a squirrel to be unhappy. Too much to do."

"Mm. I suppose it might be that," admitted Ratatask. "It's an unhappy message I have to tell someone."

"Do you really have to? There's already so much unhappiness in the air."

Ratatask looked up from the tree and, surprisingly enough, there was. Little clouds of discontent drifted around Yggdrasil, real enough to touch. There was something unsettling about it, and the mythical squirrel took a closer look. In the cloud, Ratatask could see his past self, back and forth on his journeys. Mumbling all those brand new curse words into the winds of Midgard, which carried them into the ears of mortals. Over the years going back and forth, the effect of those whispers must have grown and grown, until now everyone in Midgard was surrounded by these bad feelings all the time, and nobody really knew why.

"Goodness me," said Ratatask.

"It's okay," said the squirrel. "I found out saying good things helps. Like, did you know you have a nice tail?"

Ratatask did sometimes think fondly of his big, bushy tail. As he watched, the little cloud faded to nothing.

"Huh. That's good to know. You do too."

"Thanks! Well, stay safe."

"Mm. You as well."

With that, the squirrel continued on its way, and Ratatask was alone with his thoughts. It occurred to him that maybe, if it helped these mortals, he could try carrying good feelings up and down Yggdrasil instead.

Or maybe he just needed to keep quiet when passing through Midgard.

Ratatask soon reached the forest floor, and promptly slipped between the cracks of reality to continue his grand journey down the world tree. It would be some time until he reached Nidhogg, and the eagle had come up with some very satisfying rude words that simply rolled off the tongue...
