Tips for Solo Developing Your Visual Novel

 Panels 5 / Celebration 7 & 8

If you're a fan of Furry Visual Novels, or queer furry writing, you've likely heard of the visual novel "Lyre". You've also possibly had thoughts of creating your own Visual Novel. In this panel, I'll be diving into FVN development from the perspective of a creator who has independently tackled most aspects of the development process: I'll be discussing my experiences with asset management, marketing, and how FVNs can be a much more liberating way of communicating a story to a ready audience.

Two Rooms & A Boom

 Panels 3 / Celebration 1 & 2

In Two Rooms and a Boom – a social deduction/hidden role party game – there are two teams: the Red Team and the Blue Team. The Blue Team has a President. The Red Team has a Bomber. Players are equally distributed between two rooms (i.e., separate playing areas). The game consists of five timed rounds. At the end of each round, some players will be swapped into opposing rooms. If the Red Team's Bomber is in the same room as the President at the end of the game, then the Red Team wins; otherwise the Blue Team wins. Lying encouraged.
