Art Show: Original Paintings of Video Game Box Art and more!

 A732

Step behind the pixels and discover the art that helped define a generation of gaming. Adam Harvey brings a rare and exciting look at the original paintings used in the creation of classic video game box art. These one-of-a-kind pieces were integral to how many fans first experienced their favorite games - on the shelves, in magazines, and in memories. From bold brushstrokes to iconic imagery, this exhibit offers a rare chance to see the craftsmanship and creativity that went into many iconic covers of the games we grew up with. Whether you're a lifelong collector or a curious fan of gaming history, don't miss this opportunity to see the original art behind the box.

 2:00pm - 9:00pm

TooManyGames Scavenger Hunt

 TBA

Did you know TooManyGames has a FREE Scavenger Hunt? This year it's bigger than ever - new prizes, sponsor-powered grand prizes, and QR codes hidden all over the show floor. It's the best way to explore the con, and it won't cost you a thing. Here's how it works: 12 QR codes are hidden around the convention center (none outside). Scan all 12, complete the phrase, and head to the TooManyGames Merch Booth in Hall A to redeem your prize. All you need to get started is the Guidebook app. New prizes this year - goodbye water bottles! Every participant who completes the phrase gets a TooManyGames-themed prize. Plus, once every hour, one lucky person redeeming their prize scores a bonus grand prize from Video Game Clubs of America or Stern Pinball.

Art Show: Original Paintings of Video Game Box Art and more!

Step behind the pixels and discover the art that helped define a generation of gaming. Adam Harvey brings a rare and exciting look at the original paintings used in the creation of classic video game box art. These one-of-a-kind pieces were integral to how many fans first experienced their favorite games - on the shelves, in magazines, and in memories. From bold brushstrokes to iconic imagery, this exhibit offers a rare chance to see the craftsmanship and creativity that went into many iconic covers of the games we grew up with. Whether you're a lifelong collector or a curious fan of gaming history, don't miss this opportunity to see the original art behind the box.

TooManyGames Scavenger Hunt

 TBA

Did you know TooManyGames has a FREE Scavenger Hunt? This year it's bigger than ever - new prizes, sponsor-powered grand prizes, and QR codes hidden all over the show floor. It's the best way to explore the con, and it won't cost you a thing. Here's how it works: 12 QR codes are hidden around the convention center (none outside). Scan all 12, complete the phrase, and head to the TooManyGames Merch Booth in Hall A to redeem your prize. All you need to get started is the Guidebook app. New prizes this year - goodbye water bottles! Every participant who completes the phrase gets a TooManyGames-themed prize. Plus, once every hour, one lucky person redeeming their prize scores a bonus grand prize from Video Game Clubs of America or Stern Pinball.

Meet Dave Manak - Sonic Comic Book Illustrator

 A733

Dave will be meeting fans at the Art Show: Original Paintings of Video Game Box Art and more booth on Saturday only. Dave Manak is a veteran comic book illustrator whose work has spanned decades, genres, and generations. He began his career in the early 1970s with Warren Publications, contributing stories to their iconic horror magazines. Throughout the '80s and '90s, he continued to leave his mark on the comics world with contributions to DC's mystery and horror titles, as well as eye-catching cover art. But to video game fans, Dave is perhaps best known for his work on Sonic the Hedgehog. As a former Archie Comics staffer, he became the first penciler of the main Sonic the Hedgehog comic book series following the original mini-series in 1993. His artwork helped establish the tone and look of Sonic in comic form and played a key role in shaping how fans visualized the beloved characters outside of the games. In addition to Sonic, Dave's long list of credits includes work on ALF, Mad Magazine (notably Spy vs. Spy), and Sabrina the Teenage Witch, among many others.

Three Third Cords: Bloodborne and Femininity with Good Hunter B11

 Ruby Stage

One of the most interesting and underexplored elements of Bloodborne is its focus on femininity through gender, womanhood, birth, natalism, and subtle themes. This is shown through the varied roles of female characters, the cosmic nature of the Great Ones and the various cults seeking to produce heirs, gods, or new beings. Birth is often inverted as a form of death, death is often inverted as a form of birth, and the inclusion of story elements like the Great One Spawn's Umbilical Cords as well as the School of "Mensis" establishes a rich tapestry for analysis and critique. Come discuss the role Bloodborne plays in exploring these themes through a darkly gothic story and setting. And as always, fear the Old Blood.

Bart vs The World: World Record High Score Run

 Emerald Stage

Get ready for a high score showdown like no other. HighScorsese takes center stage in his 3rd appearance at TooManyGames in this live gaming event, attempting to shatter the world record for high score in the classic NES title: Bart vs. The World. Known for precision gameplay, deep knowledge of retro mechanics, and an unshakable focus under pressure, HighScorsese will push the limits in a run where every point counts while attempting to claim his 5th world record! This panel isn't just about the attempt-it's a deep dive into the art of high-score chasing. Along the way, HighScorsese will share insights into routing, score optimization strategies, and the quirks that make Bart vs. The World both a nostalgic yet extremely frustrating favorite and a serious challenge. Expect live commentary, live audience Q&A, behind-the-scenes explanation of techniques, and real-time reactions as the run unfolds. With the knowledge you gain from watching this, you'll feel like you too can conquer this highly difficult relic of the 8 bit era. Whether you're a retro gaming enthusiast, a Simpsons fan, or just curious about what it takes to compete at the highest level, this event offers a front-row seat to gaming history in the making. Will the record fall? Will the jank of this licensed NES title induce an epic rage quit? Join us and find out.

[CANCELLED] Retrogaming and Mental Health: Games that Stimulate the Mind

 Emerald Stage

(This Panel Unfortunately has been canceled.) In recent years, we've seen society grow more conscious to good portrayals of mental health in popular media look like, and one of the biggest art forms to take that in stride is none other than gaming, the current most lucrative art form in the world. Gaming as a medium has long served as an easy coping mechanism for those with mental health struggles, allowing them to escape from real world struggles for a small moment in time - but interestingly enough, gaming has had a history of providing truly good, well thought explorations of mental health and what it means to truly treat your mental health for a while now. Today, professional mental health and neurodivergency advocate OtterlyNoah will be discussing games that have genuinely great mental health portrayals, such as American McGee's Alice, Xenoblade Chronicles, Psychonauts, Hellblade, and plenty more, and explain how these games helped bring mental health issues to a wider audience in an easily accessible manner.

Dr. Mario Tournament Signups - DrMC 2026 Pennsylvania Regional

 Hall C - CTWC

The DrMC (Dr. Mario Championship) is extremely happy to return to TooManyGames for the DrMC Pennsylvania Regional. The Dr. Mario competitive scene has grown quite a lot over the past few years, and running live tournaments across the country will only help us continue to grow. General rules The cost of entry will be $10. The signup period will be on Sunday, June 28th from 11am to 11:45am and the tournament will begin at 12pm. This year's regional will not feature qualifying rounds. Every player who enters will be placed into a double-elimination bracket. DrMC veteran players will be seeded to ensure fair matchups while new players will be randomly placed elsewhere into the bracket. In early rounds, the game will be set to Level 11/MED Speed. Matches in the top/winner's bracket will be a best-of-five set of games (crowns), while matches in the lower/loser's bracket will be a sudden death single game (crown) match. Once the double elimination bracket is reduced to 8 players, all matches will be played at Level 14/HI Speed. Prizes The winner of the DrMC Philadelphia Regional will get free admission to the 2026 DrMC Grand Championship, a chance to compete for the DrMC Grand Championship top seed, a cash prize, and a trophy!

 11:00am

Progress Over Perfection: Learn, Iterate, Grow with Spacebabecosplay

 Ruby Stage

Progress Over Perfection is a conversation about letting go of comparison culture and embracing growth through making. I will share my own cosplay journey, starting with a love of video games, knowing almost nothing about armor, and slowly teaching myself through trial and error. While the finished builds may look complex or intimidating, they all began with small, imperfect steps. This panel focuses on learning through experimentation, building confidence over time, and feeling empowered to start, even without experience. It is for anyone who has ever felt behind, unsure, or intimidated, but still wants to create something.

Double Elimination Each Tournament Event will be played as a double elimination (a "Double Elimination") bracket competition, in which Players compete in Matches starting from what is known as the winner's side of the bracket (the "Winner's Bracket"). If a Player loses a Match while in the Winner's Bracket, that Player will be moved to the loser's side of the bracket (the "Loser's Bracket"). If a Player loses a Match while in the Loser's Bracket, that Player is eliminated and will no longer advance further in the bracket for that Tournament Event. The winner of the Winner's Bracket will play against the winner of the Losers Bracket in the Grand Finals of the Tournament Event, as set forth below. Game Settings: All Rounds except Top 8: Match Settings: 3/5 Rounds, 2/3 Matches, 60 Seconds Top 8: Winners Finals, Losers SemiFinals, Losers Finals, Grand Finals: 3/5 Rounds, 3/5 Matches, 60 Seconds Preset: Console must use Preset 1 Character Customizations: Off Players cannot use the same Preset. Should both Players wish to use the same Preset, they will play a Best-of-One Rock-Paper-Scissors to determine who may use their preferred Preset Costume of choice for the duration of the Match Set. Match Play: During a Match, the winner of any single Set must comply with the following winner lock rules: At the start of a Match, players select their sides. Players may mutually agree on who sits on left and right side, corresponding to Player 1 and Player 2, respectively, at the start of a Set. Players are committed to this selection for the entirety of the Match. If Players cannot agree to a Side Selection, they will play a Best-of-Three Rock-Paper-Scissors to determine who picks their side first. The winner of the Best-of-Three Rock-Paper-Scissors picks their side first and will be committed to that selection for the entirety of the Match. Each Player selects their character from all selectable characters and the stage is selected at random; After any single Set, the winner is "locked" into their character and they are not permitted to switch their character until or unless they lose a subsequent single Set; All single Sets are loser's choice; and the loser of any single Set may choose between returning to stage select and choosing a new randomly selected stage or returning to character select to choose a new character and a new randomly selected stage. Player Points: To have a Player's points counted and their information displayed in the Rankings, the Player must: (a) register through the Tournament Portal and agree to the applicable terms and conditions; and (b) maintain a valid account on any tournament platform supported by the Tournament Portal that applies to the event. Register Here: <https://www.tekkenworldtour.com/register> Link to the Tekken World Tour Ruleset is linked below: <https://www.bandainamcoent.com/legal/community-events/official-rules-twt>

Dr. Mario Tournament Bracket - DrMC 2026 Pennsylvania Regional

 Hall C - CTWC

The DrMC (Dr. Mario Championship) is extremely happy to return to TooManyGames for the DrMC Pennsylvania Regional. The Dr. Mario competitive scene has grown quite a lot over the past few years, and running live tournaments across the country will only help us continue to grow. General rules The cost of entry will be $10. The signup period will be on Sunday, June 28th from 11am to 11:45am and the tournament will begin at 12pm. This year's regional will not feature qualifying rounds. Every player who enters will be placed into a double-elimination bracket. DrMC veteran players will be seeded to ensure fair matchups while new players will be randomly placed elsewhere into the bracket. In early rounds, the game will be set to Level 11/MED Speed. Matches in the top/winner's bracket will be a best-of-five set of games (crowns), while matches in the lower/loser's bracket will be a sudden death single game (crown) match. Once the double elimination bracket is reduced to 8 players, all matches will be played at Level 14/HI Speed. Prizes The winner of the DrMC Philadelphia Regional will get free admission to the 2026 DrMC Grand Championship, a chance to compete for the DrMC Grand Championship top seed, a cash prize, and a trophy!

Zophar's Domain, ZSNES & the Rise of Emulation with zsKnight and Zophar

 Ruby Stage

In the late 1990s, long before game distribution platforms, official retro collections, and modern preservation efforts, gamers turned to the internet to rediscover the classics of the 8-bit and 16-bit eras. Zophar's Domain, ZSNES & the Rise of Emulation with zsKnight and Zophar explores the early history of video game emulation, the rise of ROM sites, and the online communities that helped preserve retro gaming during the early days of the internet. Join Zophar, founder of Zophar's Domain, alongside zsKnight, lead developer of ZSNES and the newly released Super ZSNES, for a behind-the-scenes look at one of the most influential eras in emulation history. The panel will cover the evolution of emulator technology, the technical and legal controversies of the time, and the lasting impact emulation has had on retro gaming today. From dial-up internet and message boards to modern enhancement-focused emulation, this discussion offers a rare firsthand account from two figures who helped shape the scene. Audience Q&A will follow the discussion.

MyCraft Cosplay/Crafting Documentary - Love & Geekitude

 Ruby Stage

MyCraft is a short documentary exploring the lives and creative motivations of D.C./Maryland/Virginia-area crafters and cosplayers Jennifer Blake (a.k.a. spacebabecosplay) and Thomas Lehrer (a.k.a. Tommy Sinbazo). Through interviews with the artists, their friends, and their families, the film looks at why people devote countless hours to making costumes and props-and what cosplay gives them in return, from community to identity to pure creative joy. MyCraft was created as a graduate project by University of Maryland filmmakers Chris Barylick and Loretta Pulwer, with thanks to Joshua Davidsburg, the Philip Merrill School of Journalism, and Anime USA 2004.
