 Panel C

New to furry? Come learn about our fandom and meet new friends!

 7:00pm - 8:00pm

Fursuiter Meetup

 Theatre B

Have you ever wondered who was under all that fur? Want to get to know other suiters in a safe and welcoming setting? The fursiter Meet 'N Greet is the place to get to know the person under the suit and meet others interested in fursuiting.

 7:00pm - 8:00pm

Writer's Meet & Greet

 Panel C

Looking to expand your contacts with writers in the fandom? Want to bounce ideas off of fellow authors? Come on out and spend some time with other wordsmiths of furry fandom. No set program – just a chance to chat and share with each other. We'll throw out some discussion topics now and then to keep the conversation going.

 7:00pm - 2:00am

Movie Night

 Theatre A

 8:00pm - 9:00pm

Photografurry 101

 Theatre B

An eye-opening introduction to Photography for members of the Furry Community who are looking to expand their skill set. Explore basic principles of the art form; learn photographic technology, terminology, and the workings of your camera; and gain practical on hand experience. Prior knowledge or a professional understanding of photography is not necessary. Participants are encouraged to bring their own cameras if they have them; if not, a demonstration camera will be provided. Come with an open mind and find out how you too can be capable of taking more than simple run-of-the-mill snapshots. Hosted by Univaded Fox.

 8:00pm - 9:00pm

Meet The Board

 Panel C

Meet the VancouFur Board

 9:00pm - 10:00pm

Prompts, both silly and serious, will be presented, and authors will have 10 minutes to write a completed story – and we'll read them for the audience's entertainment after each round!

 3:00pm - 4:00pm

Nom-Nom Pawpets adlib and digital technology

 Theatre A

I would like to do a puppet show / behind the scenes panel showing you how I use technology with puppets to make a live event. It would literally be Myself and Tai puppeteering some adlib interaction with the audience. Then trickle into showing how we add digital live backgrounds being viewed on the projection screen.

 3:00pm - 4:00pm

Writing in 3D: It's Showtime

 Panel C

By now, you're probably sick of the phrase, "Show, don't tell". But, what does it actually mean? How does a writer sweep you across the endless cosmos, drop you into the middle of a gritty medieval battle, or sit you down for an intimate candlelit evening? A key skill for any writer, effective 'showing' will ramp up your storytelling to the next level. This panel explores methods for making your writing not only come to life, but jump off the page and pull the reader in.

 4:00pm - 5:00pm

Transformations

 Secret Chamber

What is the deal with "transformation" and why are people so into it? Join us for a TF fan meet and informal discussion about transformation, why it's so awesome, and its relation to the furry fandom. We'll go over different ideas of transformation, what it can mean to us, the sub-fandom of transformation enthusiasts, and incorporating transformation into work for artists and writers. Get to know more furs who are interested in transformation and find out what it's all about for those who may be curious!

Characters That Stick

 Panel C

Sometimes you have a good character that no one remembers, other times you have a bad one that no one can forget, and all kinds in between. How does one change from whiny farm boy into the hero of the galaxy? What is it that makes a character compelling to write, read, or role play? With our own examples and help from the audience, we'll discuss the arc of a character's story within a story, the practice of character driven narrative, and look for that special spark that makes a character endure.

 7:00pm - 8:00pm

Ladies and Escorts Meet & Greet

 11:00am - 12:00pm

Turkey Readings

 Theatre B

Every genre has its awful writing, and we've dug up some of the worst out there to "share" with the audience... all for our charity! Our hosts will read excerpts of bad fantasy, SF and furry writing. When someone in the audience has had enough, they can make a donation to our charity to stop the reading. Then someone else can bid to start the piece again – and we repeat until we reach a set goal or our presenter goes insane... after which we start another piece. Come out to enjoy some terrible fiction and make our readers (and audience) squirm for charity!

 12:00pm - 1:00pm

Writing Basics: Getting Started On Your Short Story

 Panel C

A basic overview of what it takes to start writing a story, from basic world building and character development, to looking for publishers and the pitfalls there in. Starting with a look on how to make characters that are not only memorable but also believable, we would then go on to how to fit them into the world you wish to have them in. Lastly, if there is time and people willing, Jones and I would explain the differences between the two segments of the publishing industry that we have both approached. One would be self-publishing and the other would be dealing with a larger publisher and the troubles faced in these methods. We would also use our own experiences in writing to help explain what we are talking about.

 12:00pm - 1:30pm

 Artist Alley

All information at: <http://vancoufur.ca/artistalley.php> Artist Alley Rules: The Artist Alley will be open Friday, Saturday and Sunday Only Artist Alley tables cannot be reserved in advance, artists must sign up the day they wish to sell in the Artist Alley. Attending memberships must be purchased prior to applying to Artist Alley. Sign-up begins daily at 9:00am before the Artist Alley opens. Sellers must line up prior to 9:00am outside the Centennial room (Dealers/Artist Alley room opposite the front desk in the lobby). At 9:00am they will be let in to the Artist Alley and placed at a table by the Artist Alley Lead. Tables are granted only a first-come-first-serve basis. If there are more sign-ups than available space, artists may be put on a waiting list and leave their preferred method of contact in case space becomes available. Artist Alley half tables cost $15 a day. Tables are 3'x36", except table A7, which is 6'x18" and is sold as a half table since it is half width. Artist Alley half tables are non-transferable. We will attempt to provide access to power. We will attempt to provide internet access After making their payment, artists will get proof of payment. If the artist leaves their table FOR ANY REASON, they must check out with the staff member working the Artist Alley and leave a time they will be returning. If an artist has left their table and wishes to return again within the same day, they do not have to pay the $15 again so long as they still have their receipt/proof of payment. If an artist does not intend to return to their table, they must let the staff know so the table can be offered to the next person on the waiting list. There are limited restrictions to what is sold in Artist Alley, provided it is the artists own work Any 18+ work must be separate and censored. Selling to minors will NOT be tolerated. Art depicting illegal subject matter will NOT be allowed in the Artist Alley. All work must be packed up at the end of the day and removed from the Artist Alley. There will be no reserving tables for multiple days.
